

Literacy Through Partnerships

Together we are helping today's students become tomorrow's informed leaders.

Through the Journal In Education program, nationally known as Newspapers In Education (NIE), the Winston-Salem Journal delivers thousands of newspapers daily to schools and other educational settings in Forsyth and surrounding counties.

Our mission is to show how using the Winston-Salem Journal is a natural resource for classroom instruction. The newspaper presents daily lessons in business skills, reading, writing, life skills, current events and the most up to date science information. We help teachers meet requirements by providing a variety of educational tools and opportunities which align with state and national standards.
